

What's Trending in bathroom showers?

The bathroom shower has come a long way in recent years. Once a purely functional space, the shower is now seen as a place to relax and rejuvenate. Showers are becoming increasingly personalized and luxurious, with homeowners opting for custom designs that reflect their individual style and needs. As a result, we're seeing a number of new trends in bathroom showers that focus on comfort, luxury, and technology.

Here are some of the hottest trends:

Custom showerheads and fixtures: Homeowners are increasingly opting for custom showerheads and fixtures. This allows them to choose the exact features and style that they want in their shower. Gone are the days of the single showerhead. Today, homeowners are opting for multiple showerheads, including rain showers, handheld showers, and body sprays. This allows for a more customized and enjoyable showering experience.

Walk-in showers: Walk-in or Curbless showers are another popular option for homeowners, especially among older homeowners and people with disabilities who want a more accessible and seamless shower experience. These showers have a shallow threshold or no threshold at all, making them easy to enter and exit.

Curbless showers can also be made with a variety of materials, including tile, stone, and glass.

Technology: New technologies are being incorporated into custom bathroom showers, such as smart showerheads and built-in speakers. Smart showers use technology to control the water temperature, pressure, and flow. They can also be integrated with other smart home devices, such as thermostats and voice assistants.

Large format tiles: Large format tiles are becoming increasingly popular for custom bathroom showers. These tiles create a sleek and modern look, and they are also easier to clean than smaller tiles. Popular large format tile choices for showers include porcelain, ceramic, and natural stone.

Mixed materials: Mixing different materials in a shower design can create a unique and luxurious look. For example, homeowners may choose to combine stone, marble, and wood in their shower. Another popular option is to use glass tiles to create a modern and airy shower.
